SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

We respectfully announce to our patrons and others that on next Saturday evening, May 16th, we shall close our theatre for the season of '91, with the great New York Union Square Theatre success, "The County Fair." Opening as we did in the middle of the theatrical season, it was impossible for us to secure the higher grade attractions that we wished.

The season of '91-92 will open September 1st, and our bookings at the present time comprise many of the leading stars and combinations of the country,—in fact it will be the most important seasons ever known in the theatrical annals of Janesville.

Thanking our friends and patrons for the liberal patronage that we have received, we remain,
Respectfully,

ILLINOIS.

Proceedings in Both Branches of the LEGISLATURE.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 13.—The house voted to non-concur in the adverse report of the committee on the anti-Pinkerton bill, and it was ordered to a second reading. The measure prohibits the employment and furnishing of armed men to corporations. The house rejected an unfavorable report of the committee on the local option bill and ordered the measure to a first reading. The same action was taken with reference to the measure requiring insurance companies to pay the full amount of a policy in case of total loss.

A number of appropriation bills were passed by the senate. The bill compelling mine operators to pay for all coal mined was passed. Senator Arnold's bill providing for the payment in lawful money of all wages and prohibiting the truck system passed. Under it farmers and farm laborers are exempt.

A senate committee Tuesday, after hearing the estimates of the state board of agriculture, decided informally upon an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the Illinois exhibit at the world's fair.

BENEATH THE LASH.

Awful Death of a Tennessean's Young Wife.

A VICTIM TO HIS RELATIVES' FURY.

A Crowd of Women, Headed by His Daughters, Whip Her to Death—Their Action the Basis of a Deadly Feud.

SEVERAL MEN ALREADY KILLED.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 13.—Wolf's Creek is a little hamlet nestled in the midst of the Frog mountains on the border of North Carolina and Tennessee. Its population is made up of three-score years and ten, three weeks later he led to the altar Mary Williams, a handsome mountain lass of 17 summers. His family protested, his daughters raged, his sons fumed, but "Old Man" Bell asserted his right to do as he pleased. Mary Williams, though young, was not above reproach. When the Bell family determined to drive her away, she scorned their threats and clung closer to the side of her stalwart husband.

Tuesday of last week a few women induced Mary to go with them into the woods in search of strawberries. When half a mile from her home Mary found herself surrounded by sixty masked women and a few men. A committee disrobed her and while her screams awoke only the echoes from the surrounding rocks led her to a tree. Then the sleepers of the old man's three girls, administered alternately 100 lashes. Before the last was given Mary had fainted away and the blood was flowing freely from her mangled flesh. When she was carried home "Old Man" Bell became furious.

Among the men present at the whipping was John Ballew, who gave the names of some of the women, and the old man swore out a warrant for their arrest, but before the trial at the justice's office his young wife died, shrieking with agony. The mountainers approved of the whipping and determined to make an example of Ballew. Forty of them went to Ballew's house. He heard the drunken mob before it reached his cabin and was prepared to receive it with his Winchester.

John Bell fell dead from Ballew's first shot. Bill Bell, Hiram Martin and John Johnson were mortally wounded, and several others were wounded before the crowd retreated. Craig Miles, of the Ducktown Reporter, wrote an account of the affair. Twenty or thirty of the Bell party, armed with Winchesters, rode into Ducktown with the avowed purpose of killing Miles, who was compelled to flee the town. The Bell faction and their sympathizers to the number of several hundred have sworn to revenge the death of John Bell, and have left their stills and fields, armed with rifles and liberally supplied with liquor, have taken possession of the region about Wolf's Creek.

Ballew, old Bell and their sympathizers are back in the mountains, also armed, and a conflict between the two factions is inevitable. The coroner of Polk county is unable to hold an inquest. No one is willing to serve on the jury. Polk county is in the extreme southeastern corner of Tennessee, remote from railroad or telegraph facilities. The women who were said by Ballew to have taken part in the whipping were ordered committed to jail but the constable was warned not to attempt to take any of them in charge under penalty of death. Bell declares that the murders of his wife shall pay the penalty of their crime, even though his daughters go to the scaffold, and he vows that if necessary he will take the law into his own hands.

MICHIGAN.

Gov. Winans Vetoes His First Bill—Other

Legislative News.

LANSING, Mich., May 13.—Gov. Winans on Tuesday exercised the veto privilege for the first time this session and heeded the bill making an appropriation for the Detroit home for discharged convicts. The veto message stated that, although a worthy charity was to be benefited, yet it was proposed to grant public aid for a purely private purpose.

The senate by a unanimous vote passed the bill increasing the specific tax on palace, chair and sleeping car companies and fast freight lines from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent. of their gross receipts on the business done exclusively in Michigan, and requiring them to make an annual statement of their earnings with the railroad commissioners. The bill has already passed the house. The bill, providing for a uniform bounty of $100 for every Michigan soldier or sailor who volunteers or is drafted man, was referred back to the house committee on state affairs and judiciary jointly. The house passed bills reducing the legal rate of interest to 5 per cent., and prohibiting the importation of Pinkerton men to do police duty in Michigan. The senate passed a bill annexing 4,000 acres to the territory of Detroit.

THE PRESIDENT IN TROUBLE.

Thayer-Boyd Jealousy Results in an Unseemly Exhibition.

OMAHA, May 13.—[Special]—The democratic mayor and member of the city council refused to recognize Governor Thayer this morning, and a disturbance among the crowd resulted, of which this was partly the cause. Governor Thayer came to help welcome the president and his party, but the mayor and a portion of the council, picked at the fact that the supreme court seated Thayer instead of Boyd, refused to recognize him.

The president was greeted with great enthusiasm at Lincoln, and has received an ovation at all points in Nebraska where the party have stopped.

DR. TALMAGE'S BUSY WIFE.

A Glimpse of the Great Preacher's Secretary and Business Manager.

Mrs. Talmage is distinctly her husband's right hand, and all the details of his busy life are looked after by her. She is a business woman, having a rare executive ability, capable of easily handling a number of things at the same time. Much of Dr. Talmage's daily work is planned and laid out by her. She makes his pastoral and social engagements, and all his lecturing interests are in her hands. She knows his capacities even better than he. Whenever a journey is to be made it is she who lays out the route, procures the tickets and stationers and attends to all the details. No public man perhaps is saved so many annoyances as Dr. Talmage by his wife's foresight and ability.

The rear apartment of the second floor is Mrs. Talmage's working room. It is tastefully furnished, but more with an eye to utility than ornamentation. In this room Mrs. Talmage spends most of her time. It is "her private den." All the mail that is left at the house for Dr. Talmage is taken into this room and is opened by her. It is not an unusual thing for the postman to deliver between one and two hundred letters a day, all of which pass through Mrs. Talmage's hands. Business letters are answered by her, and all letters that may be of an unpleasant or annoying personal nature are destroyed. Dr. Talmage never sees them.

A day in Mrs. Talmage's home would be a revelation to those who believe that the life of a public man's wife is a succession of pleasures, dotted here with a pretty compliment and there with some token of honor. While many people are yawning and preparing to break their night's rest Mrs. Talmage is already up opening the first mail. Breakfast is promptly at 8 o'clock. Then the family separate, and the wife begins to receive callers, which alone is a task. It is a well known saying among the neighbors that "the Talmage bell is never still."

All kinds of people must be seen, innumerable appointments made and kept, the pastoral work of the largest church in America must be looked after, the details of a score or more missionary, church, literary societies with which Mrs. Talmage or her husband is connected have their demands, and in addition to all these are the household cares of a large house and a family of growing children.

All the appointments of the Talmage home in Brooklyn reflect the woman who presides over it. Gaudiness in furniture or decorations is absent, and instead one sees a harmony of good taste on every hand. Mrs. Talmage is an excellent housekeeper, and her home shows it.—Edward W. Bok in Ladies' Home Journal.

Choosing the Better Part.

Men have early learned the law of self preservation. They specialize. They choose that pursuit and that recreation which best suit their natures and their needs. Does not the artist steadily refuse to be a merchant? Does not the broker refuse to paint floors? Does the historian expect to be equally learned in astronomy? Does the want of knowledge or experience in any business or study prevent appreciative and respectful intercourse between men?

Let a woman realize, then, that she cannot compass the universe. Let each woman quickly take account of her stock in trade, of her mental endowments, her capacity and her strength, and from these let her select what is best for her to do and to be. What ever is wisest for her home—that trinity of husband, children and self—is her better part, which can never be synonymous with mere pleasure, self indulgence or stagnation.

Let her then resolutely turn her back upon all those ambitions foreign to this purpose, for no thoughtful woman will find her aims too narrow, even when she has restricted her aims as much as possible. Let her not be deceived into spasmodic efforts in other directions by other women whose aims are not like hers. Let her not attempt to reach for their successes, or look upon her own as insignificant or insufficient, for she will soon find in a wisely ordered, tranquilly lived life happiness and strength "which shall not be taken away."—Harper's Bazar.

LOCUSTS AS FOOD.

Diodorus Siculus, who lived about 60 B. C., described a tribe of locust eaters in Ethiopia, who were accustomed to secure their yearly supply of food by setting much combustible material afire in a valley when the swarms of locusts passed over, so that they were stifled by the smoke and fell to the ground in vast numbers, to be subsequently gathered in heaps with salt and so preserved. Owing to their peculiar diet these people never lived to grow old, being eaten up by maggots which bred in their flesh. Locusts are much used for food in Africa today. Flights of them are considered such a blessing by the natives in many parts that the rain doctors are employed to fetch them by their incantations.—Washington Star.

Another Death From Trichina In New York.

LOST MIND AND MONEY AT ONCE.

The Failure of Levi Brothers Proves to Have Unsettled a Millionaire's Train—Investigation of the Ripper Case—Began—Big Fire in a Drug Mill.

NEW YORK, May 13.—[Special]—Mrs. John Miller died of trichinosis this morning. Her husband died of the same disease yesterday, and it is found that others are affected.

The failure of the clothing firm of Levi Brothers, and the fact that a member of the firm has suddenly become insane, has caused great excitement in business circles. The liabilities are nearly a million dollars and the assets about half of that amount.

Harrison Drug Mill, on Cherry street was totally destroyed by fire at noon today. The loss is $77,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building burned like tinder, and despite the efforts of the fire department the building was completely gutted.

The coroner's jury in the Jack-the-Ripper murder, began this morning, and sensational developments are expected.

CLOSE ON HER HEELS.

The Charleston Said to Be Gaining On the Itata.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, May 13.—The Chilean steamer is sailing under difficulty and the United States warship is gaining on it. It is expected the two vessels will reach Acapulco within a few hours of each other.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Richard Trumbull, a member of the Chilean congress and a partisan of the insurgent party, was arrested Monday night by the United States marshal for violating the neutrality laws, in connection with the shipment of arms and munitions of war on the schooner Robert and Minnie, and on the steamer Itata. His bail was fixed at $15,000, and he was released with John D. and Adolph Spreckles as sureties. Trumbull was arrested on board the Oakland ferryboat, and was on his way to Washington to confer. It is reported, with the Chilean consul. He was at once taken to United States Marshal Long's office in this city and made acquainted with the charges against him. After his release he stated that he had expected to be arrested, but had made no attempt at concealment. "I don't worry about this at all," said Trumbull. "It is a mere formality and means nothing."

"Will you make a fight against the charge?" was asked.

"A victorious one, depend on that. Still, as I say, it amounts to nothing. I have been shadowed for several days, and this event was deemed a foregone conclusion by my friends. I am an attorney myself, and have studied the neutrality laws. There is nothing in them by which I can be held. The government of which I have the honor to be a high officer, respects the United States and would break none of its laws intentionally. We feel that we are in the right in what has become, of the neutrality laws, ferrency if we had it to do over again."

"What have you to say about the action of the Itata?"

"Nothing. But I might add that there is a precedent for that action in the case of the steamer Scandinavia, which put on the Mexican port of Santa Rosalia with the Mexican marshal aboard."

"Is the Esmeralda acting as convoy of the Itata?"

"That I do not know."

Mr. Trumbull asserted that if the Esmeralda were in this city, under no circumstances would she fire on the Charleston.

It is stated that the cruiser Charleston is making for Acapulco harbor, word having reached here that the Itata had gone there to join the Chilean insurgent cruiser Esmeralda, which is said to be taking in coal at Acapulco.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 13.—Pilot Dill, Capt. O'Farrell and the five seamen on board the Robert and Minnie, along with George A. Burt, the supercargo, were on Monday charged with violation of the neutrality laws.

In the cases of O'Farrell, Dill and Burt bail was fixed at $5,000 each and in the case of the seamen $2,500 each. The only one who gave bail was Dill; the others are still in the hands of the United States marshal.

BOSTON, N. Y., May 13.—Secretary Tracy in this city, this morning, in an interview he stated several important facts concerning the Itata incident which have heretofore been matters of speculation. Being questioned as to the dispatches which reached the United States cruiser Charleston Esmeralda, which the Chilean insurgent warship Esmeralda, he scouted the idea. True the Esmeralda carried two nine-inch guns, while the Charleston's heaviest guns are only eight-inch; but the latter had a larger number of six-inch guns, while its armament is four inches thick and the Esmeralda a only one and one-half inches.

The Charleston was accordingly fully able to cope with the Esmeralda, as were two other United States cruisers now in the Pacific. The secretary said the Charleston has orders to capture the Itata wherever it may be found on the high seas. This includes all waters outside the three-mile limit or ports of foreign countries. He did not anticipate a fight, but in case of resistance its United States cruiser would carry out its orders at all hazards. He was not at liberty to state the exact text of the cipher dispatch sent to the Charleston, neither would he say definitely if the cruiser San Francisco, now in Chilean waters, had been ordered to intercept the Itata. The San Francisco, he said, classed with the cruisers Baltimore and Philadelphia, and was fully able to hold its own with the Esmeralda. The United States had maintained a strictly neutral position in refusing to supply arms to the insurgents, and as the Itata had violated every rule of international law in breaking away from the custody of our government after seizure, it would have to take the consequences. The secretary did not anticipate serious trouble, but thought the matter would soon be settled peaceably and with honor to the United States.

THE MILLS' MEETINGS.

The fact that Rev. B. Fay Mills is to commence a series of meetings this evening, endorsed by five of the evangelical churches of the city, should be considered of more than ordinary interest. While Mr. Mills is an evangelist, he is neither a ranter or a sensationalist. His methods are quiet and practical, and his appeals are to the judgment rather than to the emotions. He comes to Janesville from Cleveland, where he has labored for the past three weeks. The "News and Herald," under date of May 7, devotes two columns to the meeting, and says that more than five hundred business places closed on one of the busiest days of the week, to attend divine service. The largest auditorium in the city, Music Hall, with a seating capacity of 4,800, was packed at every service. The influence of the meetings were felt throughout the city and county and many thousands signified a desire to lead a better life.

There is every reason to believe that similar results will be accomplished in Janesville if the churches are in hearty sympathy with the work. Good morals are the natural fruit of Christianity and the more exalted the standard of the latter, the higher the type of the former. Every good citizen will hail with gladness the advent of influences that bid fair to better the moral atmosphere of the community.

CHASING THE ITATA.

And now they say the Itata must be out of coal. She seems to run with-out coal, however, just as well as when her bunkers are full.

She has at least 800 miles the start of the Charleston and the chances of intercepting are not encouraging. The interesting question arises, however, what would be done with the Itata if she were encountered. It was upon representations of the minister of Chili at Washington that this vessel was taking on contraband goods in violation of the neutrality laws the United States marshal was ordered to detain her. There appears to be no doubt of the right of the United States to capture the escaped vessel on the high seas in American or Chilean waters, but if the fugitive craft should be able to get into the company of her fellow insurgents, it may not be a holiday task to recapture her. Authorities upon international law say that no foreign complications can arise out of the incident, since the insurgents have no status and the Itata is to all intents and purposes a pirate. The outcome of the chase will be awaited with much interest.

BOARD FOR PRISONERS.

Among the measures for which the last legislature should be given credit is one which reads:

"The boards of supervisors of the several counties of this state are hereby authorized to prescribe the diet of the inmates of the jails in their respective counties and to fix the maximum compensation to be paid therefor."

By this law power is conferred upon county boards to fix a price which heretofore has been made by the sheriff. The new measure will do away with much controversy, and will put the matter of boarding prisoners on a legal footing.

No wonder Ed. Wall denies having endorsed the Desmond and Dodge laws. Even the boss refuses to stand sponsor for a legislature which first denounced the republicans as paternalistic for compelling children to get the rudiments of an education in the language of the country, and then turned about and enacted laws which permit the tearing of a blind or deaf child from the arms of its parents, and which forbid a dying man from aiding churches and orphan asylums. The inference in the one case is that no child should be made a subject for compulsory education unless he happens to be deaf and dumb. As to the law on bequests a plausible explanation is yet to be found.

There is encouragement in the later reports from the efforts to make soldiers out of the Indians. Several troops composed entirely of Indians have been made up, and predictions come from some of those who are familiar with the circumstances that it will be made a success, and contribute materially to the solution of the Indian problem. It will be especially useful in affording a chance for those who have been educated at the government schools. They have often fallen back to their original state from lack of some employment that has authority attached to it.

The New York Sun is trying hard to work up a boom for Senator Gorman of Maryland as a presidential candidate. The chief indication that Gorman really wants the office is that his friends are frantically urging Editor Dana to assist. As a king-maker the Sun has achieved but a limited success.

The one republican member of the Florida legislature must be having a good time. His canons are brief and harmonious and he has all the rest of the time to enjoy a democratic dead-lock.

A member of the state board of supervision tells the Milwaukee Sentinel that the Democratic legislature did not appropriate enough money for the charitable institutions to cover the indispensable expenditures for the next two years.

SOME WELL-KNOWN FACS.

Gen. W. T. Sherman.

WILLIAM TECUMSEH SHERMAN.

(From a late photograph.)
William Tecumseh Sherman was born at Lancaster, O., Feb. 8, 1820, was adopted by Thomas A. M. C., through whose influence he was admitted to West Point in 1839. He was graduated in 1840 and made a second lieutenant. In 1851 he was a captain; in 1853 he resigned from the army and became a banker in California; in 1860 he accepted the position of superintendent of a military academy at New Orleans, but resigned in January, 1861.

In June, 1861, he was commissioned colonel of the Thirtieth regiment of infantry, which he commanded at Bull Run. His military career from that time is well known—his famous march to the sea being his most noteworthy achievement. In August, 1866, he was made lieutenant general in place of Gen. Grant. When Gen. Grant was made president in March, 1869, Sherman was made general and commander-in-chief. He retired in 1883 and settled in St. Louis, but later moved to New York, where he died Feb. 14, 1891.

Egypt's Consideration for the Dog.
It has been suggested that the consideration which the Egyptians of old had for the dog possessed some connection with their dependence for prosperity upon the periodical overflows of the Nile. To these floods they looked forward, as they do now, with anxiety, and it so happened that the inundations were customarily announced by the appearance in the heavens of Sirius, the dog star. As soon as this orb was seen above the horizon they hastened to remove their flocks to higher grounds and abandoned the lower pastures to the fertilizing stream. They hailed it as their god and protector and called it the dog star because of its apparent watchfulness over and protection of their interests. One of their deities—Anubis—had the body of a man with a dog's head.—Ex-Change.

A Polite Remark.
In the way of satirical humor the following will require a deal of beating. A "hansom" was being driven along a leading thoroughfare at a pretty smart pace when another cab, coming from the opposite direction, ran into it with just sufficient force to lodge the colliding horse's head on the back of the other horse.

The expected outburst of strong ad-jetive language did not take place, but instead the driver of the hansom that had been run into sat still, and, with withering politeness, observed to the other driver: "When your 'oss have seen all 'e wants to see across my 'oss's back, p'haps 'e'll get down. But, bless yer 'art, there ain't no 'urry."—London Tit-Bits.

MR. CLEVELAND TAKES.

The Ex-President speaks to Buffalo Democrats About the Expenditures of the Last Congress.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 13.—The Cleveland democracy, Buffalo's foremost political organization, now seven years old and having a membership of upwards of 1,700, opened its new clubhouse on Washington street Tuesday evening with ex-President Cleveland as the guest and speaker of the occasion. A portion of his remarks was as follows:

I believe the most threatening figure which today stands in the way of the safety of our government and the happiness of our people is reckless and wicked extravagance in our public expenditures. It is the most fatal of all the deadly brood born of governmental perversion. It hides beneath its wings the betrayal of the people's trust and holds powerless in its fascinating glance the people's will and conscience. It brazenly exhibits to-day a billion dollar congress. But lately a large surplus remained in the people's public treasury after meeting all expenditures then by no means economical. This condition was presented to the American people as positive proof that their burden of taxation was unjust, because unnecessary; and yet, while the popular protest is still heard, the harpy of public extravagance devours the surplus and impudently casts upon its staggering victims still larger supplies with the reach of its insatiable appetite. A few short years ago a pension roll amounting to $50,000,000 was willingly maintained by our patriotic citizens. To-day public extravagance decrees that three times that sum shall be drawn from the people, upon the pretext that its expenditure represents the popular love of the soldier. Not many years ago a river and harbor bill appropriating $100,000,000 gave rise to a loud popular protest. Now, public extravagance commands an appropriation of $200,000,000 for the same purposes, and the people are silent. To-day millions are paid for bare-faced subsidy; and this is approved or condemned at the behest of public extravagance, and this new measure is turned loose, which, in company with its vicious tariff partner, bears plenary benefit to the households of false selfishness.

"Public extravagance in its relation to inequitable tariff laws not only lays an unjust tribute upon the people, but is responsible for unfair advantages bestowed upon special and favored interests as the price of partisan support. Public extravagance directly distributes gifts and gratuities among the people, whose toleration of waste is thus secured or whose party service is thus compensated, or who are thus bribed to future party support."

"But to my mind the saddest and most frightful result of public extravagance is seen in the readiness of the masses of our people, who are not dishonest but only heedless, to acquiesce themselves to that deterioration in public place which it involves. Evidence is thus furnished that our countrymen are in danger of losing the scrupulous insistence upon the faithful discharge of duty on the part of their public servants, the regard for the integrity of the public treasury, the sturdy Americanism the independence which relies upon personal endeavor, and their love of an honest and well regulated government, all of which lie at the foundation of our free institutions."

HIS CIDER IN COURT

Nick Moran's Potent Beverage in a Lawsuit.

WAS THERE A STICK IN THE KEG?

Some People thought There Was and the Arrest of Brodhead's Mayor On the Charge of Selling Liquor Without a License Followed—Court Notes.

Nick Moran of Brodhead sold cider from a wagon during the progress of an auction sale in the fall of 1889. He sold two kinds of cider; one for five cents a glass and one for ten cents a glass.

The ten cent glasses contained about one quarter as much cider as the five cent glasses and a little pepper sauce was unloaded free of cost. This caused good people to suppose that the ten cent glasses contained something besides cider. They had Moran arrested for selling liquor without first obtaining a license and the case was first tried before Justice George Helmbolt of Orfordville. Moran was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars. He took an appeal to the Circuit court without first going through the Municipal court and on the motion of District Attorney Wheeler, Judge Bennett ordered the appeal dismissed and remanded all papers back to the justice court.

The case of the state against Frank Dougherty, charged with burglary, was continued on the motion of the district attorney, owing to the absence of a material witness. Dougherty's bail was also reduced to two hundred dollars.

The suit of Max Pfennig against August Lutz will not be tried by Judge Bennett. The attorneys in the case have agreed upon a settlement, each party paying their own costs.

The case of the state against Fritz Bulke was continued on motion of the defendant, and with the consent of the district attorney. The complaining witness is Harry Davenport and Bulke is charged with assault. Davenport claims that Bulke battered him in the stomach during the progress of a fight, misunderstanding.

The case of Dutton against Kelly has been decided in favor of the defendant. The trouble grows out of a misunderstanding concerning a fifty dollar promissory note.

All the jury cases as well as the criminal calendar are now disposed of and at 2 o'clock, the issues of fact for court were taken up.

WEDDED AMID FLOWERS.

Marriage of Miss Minnie Nowlan to Dr. Hugh Menzies.

Miss Minnie Nowlan and Dr. Hugh Menzies were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Nowlan.

The ceremony occurred at 8 o'clock and was performed by Rev. Dr. H. G. McArthur, of Fort Atkinson, assisted by Rev. S. P. Wilder, of the Congregational church. The happy couple stood before a flower-banked mantel piece which was almost hidden with houseplants, smilax and white lilies. The ceremony was private, only the immediate relations and intimate friends of the contracting parties being present.

The bride was attired in a very becoming gown of cream fabric, trimmed with white lace and trimmed with embroidered mousseline de soie. In her hand she carried a bouquet of cream bride's roses. The groom wore the usual evening dress. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Nowlan, and is a young lady well known in Janesville, having resided here during her lifetime. The groom is the son of Hon. and Mrs. James Menzies, of the town of Harmony, and is one of Janesville's most prominent and rising young physicians. Quiet and unassuming in his manner, his opinion on any question pertaining to his chosen profession is taken with as much confidence as that of his older colleagues.

Mr. and Mrs. Menzies will take no wedding trip, but will begin housekeeping at their home, Number 156, South Main street.

PRAISE FOR JANESVILLE GOODS.

Mrs. Jenness Miller Endorses Lewis Brothers' Combination Underwear.

A Janesville firm, The Lewis Knitting Company, were among the first manufacturers of the Mrs. Jenness Miller combination suits which are now so popular. The committee in charge of Mrs. Miller's Brooklyn lecture distributed in Brooklyn and New York City, 25,000 circulars, recommending such articles as are approved of by Mrs. Jenness Miller. The following notice of the Janesville firm was given:

"The finest trade finds an increasing confidence and a constant increase in the sale of combination suits made by the Lewis Knitting Company, Janesville, Wisconsin. The reason for this is, the treatment of the yarn by this company makes their garments the nearest non-shrinkable possible to obtain. All acknowledge their garments to be the most perfect in form. Being full regular and tailor trimmed, they are absolutely perfect in construction, and for purity of stock, and beauty of finish unexcelled. They are earnestly endorsed by the advocates of dress reform, including Mrs. Jenness Miller and will be found for sale by the leading dry-goods houses of the large cities."

FINE HORSE FOR A COMPANY.

La Prairie and Turtle Breeders Buy a Handsome Coach.

The La Prairie and Turtle Coach Horse Company have just bought the German coach horse, Nero, of Bowles, Hadden & Company. Nero is seventeen and one-half hands high and weighs fifteen hundred pounds. He is black, and a noble horse. Nero landed in America October 5, 1890, and October 28 went to Chicago to the great horse show and took third prize in a large class. The coach horse company already had a very fine French coach horse, and now they have a span of stallions that cost thirty-five hundred dollars, which goes to show that this company mean to raise some fine carriage and coach horses. As Kentucky is noted for its trotters, France for its coach horses, and Germany for its coaches, so will La Prairie be noted for the fine coach and carriage horse.

SAYS HE KNEW CHAPIN.

A Newark Farmer Thinks the Stockman is from Algonquin.

What the officers think is a clue to the identity of E. J. Chapin is a story told by D. B. Emerson, of the town of Newark. Emerson says that about a week ago a cattle buyer named Chapin called at his farm and introduced himself as a dairy farmer from Algonquin, Illinois.

"Chapin said he owned a big dairy farm at Algonquin," said Mr. Emerson, "and that he was buying cows. He came to my place with a man whom Chapin said was a horsebreeder named Conn, of Rockton. Chapin said he would visit this section of the country every month or so during the summer."

Emerson's description of Chapin tallies with that of the man at the hospital, but as before stated, Dr. Whiting's telegram to Algonquin was returned without reaching anybody who knew Chapin.

BEAT THE WORLD ON TIN.

Janesville Stores Show the Advantage of Protection.

That there has been a revolution in the production of tin plate during the last six months a glance into any Janesville hardware store shows. Free traders are doing all in their power to break down the tin plate industries of the United States, but their failure is proved by the superior tinware now offered by some of the American manufacturers.

"Here is some 'anti-trust' tinware, manufactured by the Clifton Springs Manufacturing Company of New York," said A. H. Sheldon today, "that shows how the people are the gainers by protecting American manufactures. This tin is something comparatively new. The process is owned exclusively by the Clifton Springs Company, yet with the exclusive control of its manufacture the tinware is placed in the market at an advance of only ten per cent. on ordinary tin. Tinware of this class is a trifle heavier than the ordinary tin, yet it is in appearance the same. The company guarantees all their vessels to be rust proof, offering to refund all moneys in case an article of their tin is returned showing signs of rust at any stage of service, no matter how or for what it is used. It is ideal 'of any tin we ever able to import and its development has occupied but a very short time."

Some boys were playing on the opposite side of the street, one hundred feet or more from the window, throwing a marble on the stone sidewalk to see it bound. A fifteen-year-old lad took the marble and threw it down on the flag-stone with all the force in his arm. The marble glanced and flew across the street.
